& materials for group training of <20 people

FIVE immersive one-day workshops that transform your employees into an A-team

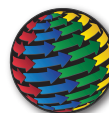

Our assessments are the perfect instrument for almost any training program. However we know there are times when an organization needs more than just the complimentary trainer materials provided by your Assessments 24x7 dashboard – you need an actual expert to lead live group training programs. Who better to integrate our assessments into expertly engineered courses than the assessment developers themselves?

Each of our live group sessions is an immersive, full day of results-focused workshops delivered by one of our expertly trained and master certified facilitators. Select from our suite of seminars on vital workplace skills like communication, management & leadership, sales and team-building.

- ① Self-Awareness & Communication
- ② Transitioning from Buddy to Boss
- ③ Sales Optimization
- ④ Trust-Based Leadership
- ⑤ Making Teams Work

What's the best part? We come to you for zero additional costs. All of your assessments and our trainer's travel expenses are included. We will coordinate and schedule dates, provide the perfect instructor, administer all of the assessments, and ship all of the training materials ahead of time. You will receive everything you need, from a single expert source.
