UNDERSTANDING DISC

DISC is a simple, practical, easy to remember and universally applicable model. It focuses on individual patterns of external, observable behaviors and measures the intensity of characteristics using scales of directness and openness for each of the four styles:

Dominance, Influence, Steadiness, and Conscientious.

DISC RESULTS FOR MICHAEL FOLTZER

D = Dominance: How you deal with Problems and Challenges

I = Influence: How you deal with People and Contacts

Very Outgoing & Persuasive, Very People Oriented, Quite Optimistic Outlook, Strong Communication Skills, Likes to have Variety in their day.

S = Steadiness: How you deal with Pace and Consistency

Very Patient & Favors Stability and Structure. Not a Risk Taker, Likes to operate at a Steady, Even Pace.

C = Compliance/Structure: How you deal with Procedures and Constraints

Date, Fact and Analysis Based. Precise and Accurate Trust in the Value of Structure, Standards and Order. Sees the value of “Rules”.

Michael, you score like those who love challenges and competition. You tend to take risks that others would not attempt, and you usually find those gambits successful. As a leader, your competitive spirit allows you to take your team to new heights. You enjoy a good challenge and appreciate that trait in your peers, likewise.

You tend to rely more heavily on your own opinions than on the evaluations of others. This is a symptom of your independence and can potentially lead to some problems, especially where rules, details, or minutiae are concerned. This may result in cut corners or overlooked details. You may balance this by striving to seek input from those who might have more expertise in a particular area.

You have many ideas and opinions of your own and a high degree of confidence in those ideas. It might be said that people who score like you tend to have a rather visible ego presence. However, those who are able to manage this can nevertheless thrive in a more people-friendly work climate.
