CORE ASSESSMENTS

The world's first ecosystem of assessments, designed for a "wholistic" approach to evidence-based coaching and consulting. Human beings are too complex for a single assessment solution, or even a patchwork of unrelated assessments. Each of the five Core Assessments measure one of the distinctly different - but equally important - Core Styles that drive human performance and self-awareness: Behavioral, Motivational, Thinking, Emotional, and Learning.

360° ASSESSMENTS

What if your executive and leadership clients were given a 360° view of themselves? Imagine having the ability to process the collective perceptions of how others see you. Often times, the way we perceive ourselves and the way others perceive us are two very different things. Our 360° assessments empower users to compare their self assessment with their observers' assessment feedback. One popular cost-saving feature that makes our 360° assessments unique? Unlimited observers for one flat price!

COMPANYWIDE ASSESSMENTS

Companywide assessments are a powerful way to pinpoint - without bias - gaps and struggles within an organization. Why waste weeks or months conducting employee interviews - especially when they're frequently limited to only a fraction of the organization? Companywide assessments save you time and improve the accuracy of your findings by taking anonymous surveys of everyone within the organization. Our unlimited companywide assessments also empower you to use them for lead sourcing! Offer a free companywide assessment to any organization to get yourself "in the door".

SPECIALTY REPORTS

Our catalog includes a number of extraordinarily unique and highly specialized assessments and reports. Some Specialty Reports may combine (or even fully integrate) a combination of the five Core Assessments (ex: DISC, Motivators and Hartman Value Profile), while others may not use a previously existing assessment at all (ex: Sales IQ Plus). However, each of these unique instruments generates a report with laser-targeted data intended to deliver reliable performance answers and insights to a host of coaching and training initiatives.

HIRING & SELECTION REPORTS

Provide your client organizations with reliable selection insights to reveal what's behind the interview mask, and missing from the resume. You will be empowered to help these same clients optimize their greatest resource: human capital. Selecting the right professional, for the right job, the first time - is invaluable. When organizations receive the coaching and consultation - with reliable instruments - to improve their hiring & selection outcomes, that leads to: optimized individual & team achievements, smaller training investments, bigger returns, and stronger retention rates. The ROI is almost immeasurable.

Insights GPS (mobile only)
